General facilitation guidelines: Please work to ensure productive dialogue that draws on the significant knowledge and experience of each participant in any given small group. We are all smarter together, invite participation from quieter participants and ask more vocal individuals to make space, as needed. We want to hear from all perspectives with the goal of generating creative solutions and ideas that will benefit postdoctoral training, psychology, trainees, and the public. Work to ensure respect, openness, compromise, and an emphasis on the common good (rather than a specific agenda) within each group discussion.
